A Woman Kills a Man to Save Her Husband's Life-Deputy Marshal Assassinated.

CHICAGO, ILL., April 15.-A special dispatch from Eastland, Tex., says: A triangular duel on horseback took place near here yesterday, in which one man was killed and two others seriously wounded, one of whom will die. The scene was the open prairie, about a mile south of town. John Ellison and W. G. Hardin had been litigating over some land. They had been in attendance at court all day, and late in the afternoon mounted their horses and started for home Some talk was engaged in, which re-su ted in a pitched battle between John and Tom Ellison on the one hand and W. G. Hardin on the other. No one in the affair escaped unhurt. Tom Ellison was the first to fall, shot through the breast by a bullet from Hardin's pistol. He expired in a few minutes. About twenty shots were fired. John Ellison and Hardin per-forated each other with bullets Hardin cannot live and John Ellison is seriously wounded. The par icu-lars of the quarrel cannot be ascertained as no eye-witnesses were present until the battle was well under

The Intimidation and Contempt Cases at New Orleans,

New Orleans, La., April 15.—The business before the special session of the United States Circuit Court at Jefferson, Tex., was completed by Judge Pardee yesterday. The contemp and intimidation cases were disposed of speedily. The parties who came to Jefferson from New Orleans and refused to work were condemned and sentenced-two of them to the Galveston jail for four months and four to the Marshal jail for ten days. Three bulldozing striking ne-gross from Longview were sentenced to the Galveston jail for forty days. The motion to dissolve the injunction ual. The suit to compel the company to move all the offices back to Marshall and make the permanent head-quarters there will be tried at the next term of the court, in September.

Hearns, Tex., April 15.—At his residence last night, Dr. Bassett became involved in a quarrel with a man named Hughes. The latter grabbed the doctor's pistol with the intention of shooting him. Mrs. Bassett seeing her husband's danger, hastily secured a rifle, and commanded Hughes to drop the pistol. Hughes refused to obey the command, and continued to advance threateningly upon Dr. Bas-sett, whereupon Mrs. Basset fired, mortally wounding him. The affair caused great excitement.

A BANKER'S LOVE FOR CATS.

His Will Contrated on the Ground of an Unsound Mind.

BALTIMORE, April 10 -The contest over the will of Gustavus Nicholson, the banker, has brought to light some of the old gentleman's queer charac-teristics. The will bequeathed the entire estate, valued at $163,000, to Issae L. N.cholson, and the nieces and nephews who are not on the list are making the contest. Nicholson had a hobby for making wills, and made over a dezen in the course of a few years. It was stated by servants of the old banker that he lived in a little back room of his fine residence on Harrison street. His love for cats was the most peculiar of all his coen-He kept a regular asylum tricities. for cats. He had over a dozen of his own tabbles, and these were permitted to invite their friends, so that hosts of cats were entertained at the banker's home. He took cats to bed with him, and sometimes a matroaly cat would provide a nest in his comfortable feather bed, and there a litter of kittens would be born and raised. At one time he had six Maltese cats living with him in his room. These were his favorites. The ordinary cats were kept in the kitchen. All cats would run to him and purr when he entered the house, and he would sit or lie with them playing all over him. The counsel for the contestants, in his presentation of the case, stated that the death of Columbus Nicholson, a brother of Gustavus, and the fact that there had been for some time a difficulty between them, stemed to weigh upon the mind of Gustavas, and though a genial gentleman he became addicted to drink, and lived in the room of the big house alone with his cats. Counsel for the executors claim that, while he was a little eccentric, in all business matters he showed clear and excellent judgment.

The Modern Newspaper.

Washington Sunday Gazette: It is a fact which thinking men have long seen that a few sensational newspapers in this country had carried their love for sensationalism too far. Under the name of news and with the plea that the people would have it, these newspapers have pandered to the lowest tastes of the lowest stratum in society. The result has been that in many minds the press generally suffers. "From one specimen judge all," say the preachers who have in mind certain disreputable sheets in New York and elsewhere, whose col-umns reek daily with a filth unredeemed by fancy and with a vulgarity from which no ray of wit shines. We freely concede all this, and will confess that perhaps it would be well to put even legitimate news of a certain character in the background. But we insist that the vast majority of the press does not come under the opprobrium justly resting upon the few specimens cited by the content of the specimens of the pressure of the specimens of the pressure of the specimens of the spec nals urging earnestly that any tendency to vicious sensationalism, vulgarity and slang be checked and reproved. Good, strong words are spoken in behalf of a rigid adherence to heaithy literature and good morals. There is evidently a reaction against that beastly style of journalism whose chief exponents and upholders were to be found in Chicago, Cincinnati and among a certain class of papers in New York. The Chicago exan lost its ruling spirit, and the Cincin-nati specimen is daily becoming less profitable. The New York offenders, like the poor, will always be with us -certainly until New York City somewhat purified of its reckless and godless immorality. Elsewhere, however the day, in good truth, cannot much longer be delayed when the sensational, scandal-loving, prurient newspaper will be tabooed in every household and business establishment

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE APPRAL. BATESVILLE, MISS., April 14 - Those who believe in the old saying, "Blessed is the bride whom the sun shines on," were rather ne vous Wednesday afternoon for two young folks whose lives were to be linked together by the wed-ding ceremony. About 5 o'clock p. m., however, and just as the Presby-terian church bell began to peal out fts invitation, "Old Sol" hustled through the clouds and g addened the eyes of the entire topulace who thronged the place of worship. Prof. Ragland, assisted by some of the young ladies, had tastily adorned the rostrum, chandeliers and other appurtenances of the sacred fane with wreaths of spring flowers, whose sweet perfume filled the air with fragrance. All robbery and horse stealing, the best-looking men and the prettiest girls in Batesville were present, and not a few from the sister towns. As I looked around the spacious room I was filled with astonishment that so many attractive young ladies were still unmarried. I presume the low price of cotton and the fact that there is only one train per day from Mem-phis has much to do with this singular state of "fancy free femininity. Shortly before 6 o'clock p.m. the Bitten by a Rabid Bog. New York, April 15.—Miss Amelia Morisini, daughter of Jay Gould's old partner, and younger sister of Mrs.

Victoria Schelling-Huelskamp, was bitten by a rabid dog yesterday. She was walking in the grounds surrounding her father's residence at Riverdale, when she saw the dog coming up the railroad track toward her. She ran, but the animal pursued and overtook her. Her screams were heard by Policewan Finnegan, who drove the dog off and killed it with a shot from his revolver. Miss Morisini, however, had already been bitten.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE APPEAL. SHANNON, MISS., April 15.—The Mayor and Board of Aldermen in the Mayor and Board of Aldermen in the town of Shacnon agreed last night not to impose a tax on the festive drummer. We all regard this as a thing of the past, and think the Legislature of Mississippi for 1886 was a farce, and most of them or the party who introduced the bill imposing the tax on the drummer must have been like Rip Van Winkle—sales of twenty years. PROSPECTS FOR THE COMING SEASON AT MONTE GLE.

An Attractive Programme for the Summer Assembly-The Object of the Association.

[CORRESPONDENCE OF THE APPRAL.]

MONTE SOLE, TENN., April 13.-There has been no conception or creation of means for the development of mind and morals so nicely planned and successfully executed as that of the Chau-tauqua Literary and Scientific Circle. Nor is it possible to estimate with any degree of certainty the value, influence and future force of the training secured by faithful pursuit of the pre-scribed course. To very many the place and its methods are very well known, but there are thousands buygering for knowledge, and that of a kind to place them in the line of the intelligent thought of the day, who would be glad, through your columns or otherwise, to know how easly, pleasantly and profitably such an advantage may be secured. The idea of a university where students could receive diplomas, and yet remain at home and at their regular occupation, was conceived twenty-five years ago Its practical realization begin in 1874, when the first assembly was held at Chautauqua, N. Y., Lewis Miller and Dr. Vincent being leaders in the movement which has since grown to astonishing proportions than ten years ago the inaugural exer-cises, attended by hundreds of enthusiastic people, hinted only at what to-day is an institution without a peer. There has been a constant endeavor upon the part of those leading the measures to secure the greatest good to the members, and to induce a communion of interest by the introduction of features calculated to stimulate sentiment and excite feelings of unity, good fe lowship and helpfulness. be able by a directed course of reading to feel yourself in like pursuit with 24,000 others is stimulating. Each years' course of reading is complete. Special courses are arranged for post graduate study, for which seals are added to the diploma. The price of bridal party entered the church. The books, which was considered by many poor people—who of all the world most need mental riches - an obstacle poor people—who of all the world most need mental riches - an obstacle to their joining the circle, has been la gely overcome by a monthly pamph-let called the Chaulauquan, which has the readings interspersed with other matter, all of which is of the most g lady was no exception to desirable character. Systems of loan, She comes of a good old exchange, etc., also aid those who are not able to buy all the books, and secure a corner of the room under the name of Chautauqua Corner. Dr. Vincent will spend a week at Monteagle this summer, and will, no doubt, materially aid by suggestion, as well as by the popularity of his lectures, the management of our summer assembly and schools. The programme for the season of '86 has names conspicuous in America and beloved abroad, men of mind and merit, as well as those of more local reputation, but unquestionable ability. The president of Monteagle Assembly, Mr. R. B. Reppard of Savannah, Ga., is a spirited, energetic, liberal Christian gentlemen. He is supported by a committee relected on the ground of felicitous management in the three years ending in 1886. The grounds are looking much improved by another year's growth of shrub and sod. Why Jews Live so Long. The New England Medical Monthly comments very favorably on the pro-verbial long and healthful lives of the Jews. Dr. Picard holds that this superiority is due to their stringent heal h laws. The Mosiac, like the older Egyptian code, is very stringent regarding the cating of flesh and other articles of food. Of the animals examined, a large proportion are always condemned as unfit for food. People who eat meat indiscriminately are very prone to disorders of the blood and of the kidneys, for meat is composed of nitrogen, which the kidneys have to remove from the blood, and, of course, they cannot do this successfully except by the aid of Warner's safecure, the best kidney strengthener, unless it is temperately partaken of and only the very best meat is used. Jews also use alcoholic liquors very spar-ingly and thus keep up good diges-tion, and then again they are a holidayoving and Sabbath-observing class.

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's l'ills, and, be-fore finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.
